))) - a Note from INDIA

Mike here, from India. HI to the greatest marketing family in the world!

I am updating you on our experiences in India. You are here through me. We are one. This experience has been a blessing to me. I find the majority of Indians to be warm hearted, kind and caring people. Indians are humanitarian type of people. Also Indians are ambitious and very intelligent. I believe that many Indians will be blessed by this fantastic opportunity and wonderful product. Our new PN site for India - <http://www.India-4life.com> .

My heart has been touched by the need for better health here in India. There are so many people suffering. Transfer Factor can make such a difference. It is such a privilege to bring transfer factors to our Indian friends. We have people traveling great distances to see if transfer factors can help them.

There will be several Indians coming to the 4Life convention this year. You will be blessed when you meet them.

The meetings have been packed wall to wall. My suite is consistently full of distributors bringing their family, friends and guests to hear about Transfer Factor. This flow of guest keeps my staff and I busy all day into the night. There has been a large number of enrollments. In spite of a challenge with custom taxes, we are doing well.

I will be leaving here to travel to my marketing family in Australia on July 18th. Several of my staff members are staying in India for another week to assist them in meetings and enrollments. Once they leave, Tim will be arriving in a couple of weeks.

Keep in mind that we are in India for you. I didn't enroll anyone in India to myself. I am working with contacts of our marketing family in the USA, Malaysia and Australia. I met Krishnan from Malaysia in India. He is traveling with us so that we can talk to his prospects. Chrishnon is down through Bob Fedorowytch from Australia. I will be meeting guests for Bonnie Hornsby, Linda Emmerson, Loranda Thomas and Bernice Mannon. Our meetings are all open and we have had several distributors from various legs there attend. I point this out in light of recent posts that indicated that we are misunderstood.

IMPORTANT NOTE - Sometimes when we are working internationally our marketing family in the USA feel that the market there isn't as valuable to us as the international market. Keep in mind when I have a half dozen staff members overseas there are still more than a couple dozen there in the USA working with you. Our teams in the USA are growing and doing well along with our team members internationally. Plus our valuable leaders in the field are working their hearts out for each of you.

Also keep in mind by developing the support in the Indian market we are preparing the way for other distributors around the world to be able to more easily connect with people in India and develop your downline here.

Well this is enough for now - be blessed. Mike
